CANNING FACTORY BURNS TO GROUND SATURDAY NIGHT

Not Known How Blaze Started
But Firemen Have Fight Against Elements.

One Man Loses Household Effects in Ruins.

INSURANCE NEARLY COVERS

What threatened to be, and but for the prompt and efficient work of the fire departments would have been a serious conflagration, occurred early Sunday morning at 12:35 o'clock when the Paducah Canning factory, Tenth and Norton streets, was destroyed by fire. The building was a large two-story frame structure, and was destroyed completely with all the machinery and office fixtures.

No one knows how the fire originated, but the fire seems to have started about the middle of the southern wall, which borders on the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad. The fire burned the whole of the building inside, and burst out all at one time like the crushing of an eggshell.

Patrolmen Jones and Owen stood at Tenth and Norton streets and looked at the canyons, where the fire is thought to have started, carefully, for thieves have been robbing them for some time. The patrolmen went one square to fire station No. 4 and reported and had waited about 15 minutes to be relieved from duty, when they heard shots and looking out the door saw the smoke and fire. Charles Etter was on watch at the station and he gave the alarm, and company No. 1 was at the fire and had a stream of water on in a minute. The smoke was so dense Charles Etter had to feel for the water plug, and the firemen could hardly breathe in the open street. However, by the time No. 2 arrived the company had three streams of water on the fire.

Water checked the fire little, and Assistant Chief J. A. Elliott devoted one stream to saving adjoining property, and by valiant work, loss of only a few hundred dollars resulted, despite the fact that a heavy wind was blowing directly toward the property, and only a narrow alley separated the factory from the residence. The central fire company came on the second alarm and worked in on the fire from Eleventh street. Company No. 3 filled in at the central station during the fire.

The firemen entered the burning building, but it being a frame structure the flames could be only held in control, and not extinguished. The firemen worked patiently until 6:30 o'clock when the building was in ashes.

Mr. Voder Asleep.

Mr. N. G. Voder, general superintendent of the factory, was sleeping in the office, and first discovered the fire, and gave the alarm. He went to bed about 9 o'clock and was awakened by the falling house and the smoke. He rushed out of the building.

CHRIS C. MILLER ILL

Information has been received by relatives in Paducah that Chris C. Miller, the well known traveling salesman in this district for the W. B. Beckman Hardware company, is critically ill of pneumonia at his home at Puryear, Tenn. Mr. Miller is one of the best known traveling men in this territory. He was formerly connected with the George O. Hart company here and has many relatives in Paducah.

Johnson Child May Recover.

Lone Oak, Jan. 27. (Special.)—The six-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, of near Massac, who was badly burned Friday by falling into the fire place, is resting well today. It is thought the child did not inhale the fumes.

BLACKLIST LAW KNOCKED OUT BY SUPREME COURT

Washington, Jan. 27.—The Erdman act, prohibiting railroads engaged in interstate commerce from discriminating against employees because of membership in labor organizations, was declared unconstitutional by the United States supreme court today.

Mayor James P. Smith Nominates His Board of Public Works Before Board of Aldermen Meets Tonight.

General Council Will Pass on Budget Ordinance and Moving Picture Show Measure
at This Session.

F. W. KATTERJOHN, president Katterjohn Construction company and Katterjohn Brick company.
LOUIS F. KOLB, president of Kolb Bros., wholesale druggists.
RICHARD RUDY, cashier Citizens' Savings bank.

Mayor James P. Smith this afternoon announced his board of public works. The board is composed of two Republicans and one Democrat, and the personnel of the board is modern and aggressive. Mr. F. W. Katterjohn, a brick manufacturer and a construction contractor, engaged in undertakings of great magnitude and involving consideration of all kinds of material and workmanship, is equipped in the highest degree to estimate the cost of work and material, and the quality of material furnished and its durability, and the quality of workmanship put on public contracts.

Mr. Louis F. Kolb is a well known and successful wholesale dealer and represents the merchant class on the board.

Mr. Richard Rudy, the Democrat on the board, is a bank cashier, and, moreover, spends much of his leisure time riding in his automobile, a pastime that will keep him thoroughly in touch with conditions all over the city.

In making the appointments Mayor Smith said: "I wanted a banker, a business man and a man who had special knowledge of contracting business. This board I believe is nearly an ideal one in equipment. Mr. Rudy is out nearly every evening in daylight over the streets of the city in an automobile. His personal observations will be worth much. The board will not have much money this year, and not be able to show what the members can do with extensive enterprises; but they will have every opportunity to show how far they can make a dollar go and bring back results."

These nominations will go to the board of aldermen tonight.

With reference to the street inspection, Mayor Smith would not intimate whom he favors. "That is a matter that rests entirely with the board," he said, "and I shall leave it to their judgment. If they ask me whom I prefer, I shall tell them, of course, but my word will go no further than a recommendation."

Street Inspector Alonzo Elliott stands ready to continue his present employment, it is understood, and Jeff Reed is an active aspirant for the job, with probably a good chance to land it.

The Budget.

The ordinance committee met this morning and prepared the budget ordinance and the ordinance providing for fire exits and exhaust fans for moving picture shows, and for the inspection by the electrical inspector. The board of councilmen will meet to consider the ordinances and the report of the mayor and finance committee, and then the board of aldermen will take them up.

Mayor Smith called the meeting to night as he and City Solicitor Campbell will leave tomorrow for Frankfort to attend the meeting of mayors and solicitors of second class cities Wednesday at the Capitol hotel.

Mr. A. G. Harris went to Nashville today to receive treatment for his eyes.

THE WEATHER.

FAIR.

Fair tonight and Tuesday. Warner Tuesday.

WEDDING CEREMONY LEAST CONSEQUENCE

New York, Jan. 27.—Gladys Vanderbilt and Count Szechenyi were married at noon in the presence of 250 guests at the Vanderbilt mansion. Monsignor Lavell officiated. Police kept the sightseers on the move. The costly display of orchids was magnificent exclusively. The ceremony was the briefest permitted by the church. The wedding breakfast was served to 100. The Austrian ambassador, with the count's relatives, was present.

Among the costly jewel gifts for Countess Szechenyi are:
Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt—Large tiara of solitaire diamonds and collar and pendants of solitaire diamonds.
Duchess of Marlborough—Rope chain of pearls with pearl and diamond tassels.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt—Long diamond chain.
Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt—Necklace of pearls and diamonds.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr.—Ring with large marquise diamond.
Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney—Stomacher of sapphires and diamonds.

Mrs. William Douglas Sloane—Necklace and stomacher of turquoise and diamonds.

Mrs. Almerie Pagett—Pendant of sapphires and diamonds.

Harry Payne Whitney's children—Large diamond ring.

Dr. and Mrs. Seward Webb—Ring set with rubies and diamonds.

MARKET IS AFFECTED BY COLD WEATHER

Cold weather had a stimulating effect on the produce trade about the market. Dressed poultry sold at a premium last week, and because the offerings were not large the market was steady. Dealers found difficulty in securing fowls. Receipts and sales of live poultry was also good.

The egg market took a drop, and Saturday eggs could be bought for 20 cents a dozen, but this morning owing to the scarcity of dealers they popped up to 25 cents. If the cold spell continues for any length of time the supply will decrease and the price will be boosted by dealers.

Oranges are selling dirt cheap and fancy oranges may be secured at 1 cent apiece by the crate. The crop of oranges was large and the jobbers have a big supply on hand, but the demand is anything but steady. Some jobbers are out of certain sizes and the price on these has been elevated somewhat.

The demand for potatoes has not had an abatement, and the demand for cabbage and other green stuff has been good.

CHILDREN DIE

The one-day-old twins of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Keeling, of Tennessee, died last night. Their bodies were taken to Mayfield this afternoon, and the funeral and burial will be held tomorrow.

Ed Whitts.

Ed Whitts, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Whitts, of Boaz Station, died yesterday of appendicitis. The funeral and burial will be held tomorrow with burial at the Boaz cemetery.

RURAL CARRIERS SHOULD NOT HAVE TO HUNT PENNIES

Instructions were received today by the local postoffice from Washington regarding the practice of patrons of the rural routes, of placing loose coins in their boxes each time they desire to dispatch letters, instead of supplying themselves with postage stamps in advance of their needs.

This practice imposes undue hardship on the rural route carriers in removing the coin from the boxes, and delays them in the service to the patrons. The department requests that the patrons of the rural routes provide themselves and keep on hand a supply of stamps consistent with their needs. If necessary to put money in the boxes it is recommended that the coins be enclosed in a small detachable bag of tin, wood or iron instead of having the carrier scramble over the box to pick up the coins. The stamps will be placed in the cup and will be safe from loss.

FIREMAN FALLS FROM HIS ENGINE ---WILL RECOVER

Engineer Does Not Miss Him
Until Block is Passed and Sends for Relief.

Injured Man Brought to I. C.
Hospital for Treatment.

HIS ESCAPE IS MIRACULOUS

With his body almost covered with bruises and cuts caused from falling from the deck of his engine while rounding a curve, Roscoe S. Penn, a well known Illinois Central fireman, was brought to the railroad hospital last night from Cairo, near which place the accident occurred early yesterday morning.

Fireman Penn and Engineer Ernest Benn were in charge of the engine of passenger train No. 42, which left Cairo yesterday morning for Paducah, and after the bridge had been crossed the fireman went back on the deck of the engine to break some large lumps of coal. While standing near the edge he lost his balance, when a sharp curve was reached, and fell down on the rock ballast.

Engineer Benn, who was alone in his cab, while the fireman went back to break the coal, was forced to keep a lookout ahead and did not miss his fireman until the block station this side of the bridge was reached. After the block had been passed he could not back up his engine to get the wounded man so the operator, who was notified, went to his assistance and summoned medical aid from Cairo, which was next out on a switch engine and the fireman was carried back to Cairo. Last night he had recovered sufficiently to be removed to the hospital here. The physicians at the hospital consider it almost a miracle that he was not killed or more seriously injured. Though no bones were broken, it is expected that six or eight weeks will elapse before he will be able to resume his run. Mr. Penn was only recently married. He lives at 1399 Jefferson street.

DRAWS REVOLVER ON MOTORMAN ON JACKSON ST. LINE

Refusing to pay his street car fare, an unknown negro drew a revolver, when Motorman Emmet Johnson went to put him off a Jackson street car, yesterday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock. The unknown left a grocery at Ninth and Washington streets, and hailed the car. For several weeks there has been no conductor on the line, and after a ride of several squares Johnson requested the passenger to put his fare in the box.

The man refused, and when Johnson asked him again, he became impudent and cursed Johnson, who stopped his car and took his motor key off. The passenger saw Johnson coming, and whipped out a revolver, but harked to the rear platform, and closed the door between them.

He jumped off the car at Twelfth and Jackson streets, and the last seen of him he was going down the hollow at the end of Jackson street. The fellow was of medium build, and wore a large white hat. He appeared to be drinking. The police are after him.

CHARLES TURNER TO BE RAISED AT ONCE

Work started today putting the towboat Charles Turner into the river. She sank early last Monday morning. The river has fallen so rapidly that the water is out of the engine room, and it is found that her machinery is damaged little. The hull was pumped out this morning, and the work of lifting the boat with jacks began this afternoon. Skids will be placed under her hull, and made slick with grease, and then a line will be tied to another boat. It is expected the Turner will slide into the river. The boat is in a good position for returning into the water. The greatest difficulty of relaunching the boat will be raising her, as she is a well built towboat, and is heavy.

About ten feet of the guards of the boat were broken off when the Turner sank, by striking a barge, which was tied to her side. All the coal on the Turner has been removed and the boat has been made as light as possible.

County Tax Rate Will be Reduced About Three Cents is Opinion of Members of Board of Supervisors.

FIRE AT PORTLAND BURNS MILLIONS OF DOLLARS WORTH

Portland, Me., Jan. 27.—A million dollars' damage done by fire, which swept the business district today, and is now under control. Five outside cities sent fire fighters with apparatus. Fire began last night in Milliken, Cousins & company's big dry goods house. The building was destroyed and the flames spread, destroying a whole block. Then they jumped across the street. The cause is unknown. Falling walls endangered firemen.

Standard Oil Fire.
Baltimore, Jan. 27.—Fire is raging in the Standard Oil tanks in the southeastern suburbs. Thousands of gallons of oil are consumed by the flames, which threaten to spread to the refinery. One man was killed.

TORPEDO FLEET RECEIVED WITH GREAT ACCLAIM

Buenos Ayres, Jan. 27.—Attended by a division of Argentine torpedo boats, the American torpedo boat flotilla, which left Rio Janeiro January 21, entered the port of Buenos Ayres. The arrival was witnessed by a great crowd of spectators. A few minutes later Commander Moreno, of the ministry marine, went aboard the Whipple in behalf of the Argentine republic. The Americans were met by the Argentine flotilla at Flores Island. Every boat in the American flotilla is in excellent condition and made the passage here without a single hitch. The boats will remain here until Thursday morning when they will steam for Sandy Point in the Magellan Straits, to join the battleship fleet.

Fluder Kept Purse.

Miss Rena Bourland dropped her purse on a Broadway street car yesterday and an unknown negro picked it up. He was asked why he did not return the purse, and he replied he would if asked for it. Soon afterwards he left the car and kept the purse, which contained several dollars.

JAILER BROWN ROBBED BY THE COAL THIEVES.

Coal thieves do not respect City Jailer Wade Brown more than an ordinary citizen when it comes to stealing coal. This morning Jailer Brown found the coal house door open, and peeping in he saw a hole where about 15 bushels of coal had been taken. If the police catch the thief Jailer Brown will give him quarters in the city jail, where he will not have to steal coal to keep warm.

NIGHT RIDERS WHIP CHRISTIAN CO. MAN FOR "DUMPING" PLEDGED TOBACCO

About Seventy-five Ride Away
Toward Town of Era Saturday Night After Warning Planter.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 27. (Special.)—Night riders raided the northern portion of Christian county Saturday night. They cut telephone wires and did other damage. Press Rodgers, a farmer, accused of selling, pledged tobacco to the trust, was whipped after his house had been riddled with bullets. He narrowly escaped being shot. The main body moved in the direction of Era. There were 75 in the party, all heavily masked.

General Johnston Despairs.
Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 27. (Special.)—In an interview here today Adjutant General Johnston says the only way to prevent depredations and night riders' raids is for the legislature to pass a law, transferring the trial of cases to distant counties and the governor appoint the court officers. He says local influences are too strong to ever secure convictions in counties where raids occur.

Policy of Last Five Years of
Gradually Increasing Assessment and Reducing Levy
Will be Adhered to.

While the county board of tax supervisors have not officially acted upon a petition signed by about 20 large property owners, presented them Saturday afternoon, asking that the valuation of property assessed for state and county purposes be reduced a uniform 10 per cent, all the members seen this morning expressed themselves as being opposed to such a reduction in the valuation, saying that it would undoubtedly mean that the state board of equalization would put the assessment back and likely add on an additional 10 per cent.

All the members who have expressed themselves in the matter agree that it would be folly to force a reduction in the valuation, but that the way to get at the matter is to raise the valuation and lower the tax assessment. This has been the manner of procedure for five or six years, and as a result the tax rate for state and county purposes has been lowered from $1.32 to $1.25, while the members of the fiscal court have assured the supervisors that with a reasonable valuation the tax rate will be lowered two or three cents on the $100 worth of taxable property, bringing the county and state assessment for 1908 to $1.22.

"To accede to the request of the petitioners and make a uniform reduction of 10 per cent in the valuation of the assessable property would mean that we would send our books to Frankfort with a total of one million dollars less than last year, and would cause McCracken county's valuation to be raised about 20 per cent or 10 per cent more than it really ought to be," was the way one of the most prominent members of the board expressed himself. "For the past five years the county supervisors have been gradually raising the valuation while the tax rate has been lowered in proportion. This brings about the desired result, without antagonizing the state interests. The state board of equalization will figure that it needs so much money and unless our valuation is sufficient to bring it with the tax rate fixed by the legislature, then up goes the valuation; that's all there is to it. Again to raise the valuation makes it hard on small property holders, while the lower tax rate helps them, and they must be considered as well as the large holders of real estate."

The board of supervisors expect to finish their work of going over the assessor's books within two weeks and will then adjourn for ten days to give the sheriff and his deputies a chance to serve notices on those whose assessments have been raised. Judging from the number of notices that have already been filed out in the office of the county clerk and the number of blanks that are available, a uniform raise, rather than a reduction has been made, but in every instance those whose assessment has been raised will be given an opportunity to be heard and give reason if any, why such raises should not be made.

THAW ON TRIAL

New York, Jan. 27.—Dr. Charles F. Bingham, the Thaw family physician, the first witness in the Thaw trial today, testified that Thaw, as a child suffered extremely from nervous trouble. In 1903 Thaw suffered from melancholia and was under treatment a month.

Dr. Sidney Wells, of London, treated Thaw, according to his testimony, in 1899 when the defendant was in a nervous condition. Witness diagnosed his ailment as a mental disturbance of some kind. He called twice to see Thaw in the Caridge hotel.

The defense completed all direct evidence in the Thaw trial at 1 o'clock and at 2:30 the reading of the hypothetical question to three experts was begun by Littleton.

Should Get Off Track.

AND MR. BRYAN REBUFS HIM

Washington, Jan. 27.—Ex-Senator James K. Jones, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, and at one time an enthusiastic supporter of William Jennings Bryan, called upon Mr. Bryan in his rooms at the Willard hotel this morning as the agent and spokesman of the circle of anti-Bryan Democrats. He frankly and brusquely told Mr. Bryan that he should withdraw from the race for the nomination, and Bryan's answer was not unequivocal and unqualified refusal to take any such action. The men parted stiffly and Jones reported to his associates that Bryan could not be induced to change his attitude, that his nomination was practically assured and that other methods than appeals to the candidate himself would have to be taken to prevent his nomination. Senator Jones acted as spokesman for William F. Sheehan, representing the Ryan-Belmont interests; ex-Senator George Gray, of Delaware, ex-Senator James Smith, Jr., of New Jersey, (George B. McClellan-Harvey, who represented a clique of Wall street interests, Perry Belmont and others.

NO BALLOT TAKEN

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—Owing to the absence of a quorum in the joint session, caused by Republicans and anti-Beckhamites leaving the hall owing to their fear that Beckham would be elected, no ballot was taken today. There was great excitement in both houses just prior to the joint session. Owing to the absence it looked like Beckham would win. The Bradley men succeeded in getting enough out of the hall to prevent any balloting. McKnight and Campbell refused to leave the session, but McKnight did not answer to his name at roll call. The senate passed a bill to do away with registration in cities of the fifth and sixth classes.

JEROME TOO VIGOROUS

New York, Jan. 27.—Judge Rosalsti today denied Jerome's motion to punish Paul D. Craveth, an attorney for criminal contempt in refusing to answer questions concerning his business relations with Thomas F. Ryan, before the grand jury, which investigated the traction affairs. The judge criticized Jerome's manner of conducting the investigation. He scored what he termed illegal presentation of evidence.

Saving His Country.

Noble Prentiss was a man of small stature, and the story goes that at the beginning of the Civil war, when he sought to enlist as a soldier, he was found to fall several inches short of the minimum height required by army regulations, and was ordered to step aside by the recruiting officer. Mr. Prentiss did so reluctantly, muttering as he went: "I suppose I'll have to wait."

let my country go to hell because I'm not eight feet tall."

The recruiting officer overheard the remark and called him back, saying: "Young man, you'll do," and Prentiss was enlisted and mustered into the service.—Kansas City Times.

FOOTBALL RULES.

CHANGED BY COMMITTEE AT NEW YORK MEETING.

Forward Pass Is Affected By New Plan to Play—Length of Intermission.

New York, Jan. 27.—Important changes in the rule governing the forward pass play, which will prove of advantage to weaker teams, were made by the intercollegiate football rules committee, which concluded its session here.

The new rule on the forward pass covers particularly the illegal touching of the ball. When the ball is illegally touched the side making the illegal play loses the ball to its opponents on the spot from which the pass was made. According to the new rule only the man of the passers' side who first legally touched the ball may thereafter recover it until it has been touched by an opponent. If the forward pass is legally touched and then free and is then touched by another player of the passers' side, the ball goes to the opponents at the spot where touched.

The committee considered the question of defensive tactics in connection with the forward pass, and it was decided that, while the forward pass is in the air the players of the defensive side may not use their hands or arms on their opponents except to push them out of the way to get at the ball. In order to eliminate holding, it is provided that the players of the side making the forward pass, who are eligible to receive the pass, may use their hands and arms the same way employed by players running down under a kick.

Intermission Lengthened.
A new rule was passed making the intermission between the halves of the game fifteen minutes. A delay of two minutes beyond that time gives the ball to the team on the field. This eleven may then place the ball on the 30-yard line of the offending side.

Another rule adopted provides that all penalties, except in the case of a man disqualified, may be declined by the offending side. In the future the field judge will act as timer instead of the linesmen.

After voting that the central board of officials co-operate with similar boards in the west and south, the committee adjourned. James A. Babbitt, of Haverford, was re-elected chairman of the board.

RUIN LURKS IN SNELL LETTERS

Models of Discretion Writers
of Ardent Notes.

Evidence Likely to Wreck More Than
One Home and Break Many Hearts.

ALL IN FEAR OF EXPOSURE

Clinton, Ill., Jan. 27.—DeWitt county is awaking with mixed feelings of apprehension and exultation the reopening of the famous Colonel "Tom" Snell case next Monday before Judge Cochran. There is a feeling of apprehension on the part of women whose names have not yet come into the case, but who fear that among the letters left by the eccentric millionaire there may be some which will disclose the fact that they looked at Snell's fortune with mercenary eyes and dipped their fingers into his millions, while he dangled after them, an aged puppet lover.

Two hundred and fifty letters from various women will be offered in evidence by the attorneys representing Richard Snell, the disinherited son, when the case is called, and these letters, if they are admitted as evidence, will cause heartaches and the breaking of family ties in many homes where today perfect confidence reigns.

Meat for Gossips.
This is a county of funds and private quarrels many of which have estranged the leading families in this part of the state, and if malicious gossip touches the names of many women each victim of her indiscretion will have a host of enemies who will rejoice at her downfall.

Some of these letters hark back to the schoolgirl days of respectable matrons, who have daughters of their own who are being introduced into society, and at whom the finger of suspicion has never pointed. Others, hark back to the tomb, their writers having long since passed to eternal rest. It is not considered possible that all of these letters will be admitted as evidence by Judge Cochran and even if they are strong attempts will be made to keep them away from the public eye. It is known that the court is strongly opposed to the dragging of women's names into the mire unless the letters written by them are necessary in proving that the 87-year-old Clinton millionaire was insane.

Two Women Known.

Attorneys who are working to have the will—which disposes of an estate of more than $2,000,000—set aside, believe that they will have little difficulty in securing the admission of letters written by Mabel Snell McNamee, a grandniece of the aged millionaire, who now lives in Kansas City. They also hope to have introduced letters written to Col. Snell by Mrs. Laura Hamilton, wife of Rev. E. A. Hamilton, of Newman, Ill., a Methodist minister who resided for several years in Clinton, and also letters by the minister himself.

The letters written by these women give good ground for the belief that there were many persons who knew of the aged Lothario's weakness, and that they pampered it, and in that way drew large sums of money from a man who was noted throughout the state for being tight-fisted and a driver of a shrewd, hard bargain. From the few scraps of letters which have already been made public it has developed that some women who played for the Snell millions had no scruples about placing their own good names in jeopardy, and that in playing the game greed led them to use their young daughters as bait to befool the old man with the idea that these girls loved him.

in Empire State—Taft Doesn't Need Them.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—For Hughes as first and Taft as second choice for president is pretty sure to be the attitude of the New York delegation at the national convention next June, says Walter Wellman in a dispatch to the Record-Herald.

Governor Hughes may be given the full vote of the state on the first ballot for tactical reasons, but the Taft people can have from one-quarter to one-third, possibly one-half of the seventy-eight votes from New York whenever they need them.

They say they will never need them; that without a vote from this state Taft will be nominated on the first ballot, and that it is "good politics," remembering the idols of November, for the friends of the administration and of Taft to keep on good terms with the Hughes following.

Sleep

Sleep is nature's rebuilding period, when the energy used by the brain, muscles and organs is renewed. If you lose sleep, your system is robbed of the strength sleep should give. Continued loss of sleep multiplies this loss until you become a physical wreck. Dr. Miles' Nervine quiets the irritated nerves and brings refreshing, invigorating sleep. Nervine contains no opiates, and therefore leaves no bad after-effects.

"For over two years I suffered untold agonies; my friends thought I was going crazy. I could not sleep nor rest at all. I tried different doctors, but failed to find relief. My head would ache all the time. I was like one drunk; could not concentrate my mind, and was so restless and worried that sleep was out of the question. After taking one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine I felt wonderfully changed. I am now on my third bottle and am gaining all the time. I can lie down and sleep like a child, and am able to do my work."

in Boston, where it delighted music loving audiences 14 weeks and thence to New York city, at the Majestic theater, in which place it quickly established itself as a prime favorite among the metropolitan theatergoers for a number of months.

In describing Mrs. Leslie-Carter as the greatest actress of our time, critics do so with a reason behind it. For the making of a great actress there are various requisites; but mainly, temperament, personality and talent. Of these temperament would probably be given first place, for without it conviction is ever absent. That is the most essential thing of all. The ability to live a role and reach over the footlights and have the auditor feel it with you. This is the real acting disassociated from mere make-believe. And when you add to Mrs. Carter's wonderful temperament, an entrancing personality and a talent for acting which can only be likened to Sarah Bernhardt's. In a role at her best, and it is in this great play that she will be Purley Explains Reason for Remarkable Average of Birmingham Callers.

During Dr. Purley's recent stay in Birmingham, Ala., it is estimated that eighteen thousand people talked with him and purchased his medicine. He was there thirty days. This is an average of six hundred a day. His success was so phenomenal as to cause universal comment both by the public and the press. There must be a reason for this. Here is the reason given in his own words, by Dr. Purley. When interviewed on the subject, he said: "The immense number of people who are calling on me here in Birmingham is not unusual. I have held the same experience for the past three years wherever I have been advertised. The reason is a simple one. It is because my medicine, Purley's Vegetable Compound, cures where others fail. The stomach, kidneys and liver are the very foundation of life and every physician attributes 90 per cent of all sickness to these organs and Purley's Vegetable Compound works directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, therefore cleansing the blood of all impurities, curing rheumatism, indigestion, constipation, kidney, liver and all blood and nerve diseases.

The above great remedy is now on sale at McPherson's drug store, Fourth and Broadway streets, Paducah, Ky., and to advertise this great remedy in Paducah until February 15th, McPherson's drug store will sell a large 100 bottle of the great remedy for 35 cents, or a full treatment, 3 bottles, for $1.00. No one person allowed to get over 3 bottles at the above price, and every sufferer of the above named diseases are invited to try the remedy at the advertising price. Call at once.

RAILROADS CONSIDER WAGE REDUCTION

Experts Figure $440,000,000 Worth of Equipments Idle.

Companies Considering General Cut in Wage Scale to Meet Decreased Income.

THOUSANDS OF MEN ARE IDLE.

Whether or not it will be possible to avoid a general reduction in wages has been under discussion in several headquarters of big railroad systems this week. The question has become acute with a continued decrease in earnings, which became pronounced with the beginning of the panic and assumed yesterday a more serious phase with the presentation of statistics showing a remarkable increase in the number of idle cars, says the New York Commercial. Various railroad representatives expressed the hope that any general reduction would be avoided. All admitted that it was per force under consideration, though few expected any action to be taken before the last day of the month.

The statistics of idle cars are the results of an absolutely accurate compilation from official sources. They show that a week ago 320,000, or 14 percent, of the 2,200,000 freight cars in service in this country were laid up because of lack of business. By an odd coincidence the number of idle cars is almost exactly the number of cars that have been added to the equipment of all the roads in the last two years. At an average price of $1,500 apiece, the cars represent an investment of $320,000,000. To halt them with average train-loads would require 15,000 of the 55,000 locomotives in the country, so that railroad statisticians estimated that $120,000,000 invested in locomotives was idle also. The total of idle railroad equipment they accordingly estimated as representing an investment of $440,000,000.

Thousands upon thousands of men, of course, are idle because the locomotives and cars are idle. The fixed charges on the investments and a multitude of other expenses on account of the equipment remain. The savings in wages according to do not compensate for the loss in income.

The number of idle cars on the date of the report was much greater than on any previous day since the beginning of the panic. On Oct. 20 there was a shortage of about 87,000 cars, the demand then, exceeding the supply. Since that time the demand has steadily lessened. A year ago there was the greatest difficulty in securing cars at every important trading point in the United States. Every railroad system in the country has already reduced its wage account, but the reductions have not yet brought the aggregate amount paid for labor down to what was paid before the wage scales of 1907 went into effect. Up to the present the reductions have been made almost entirely by laying off men and by reducing the hours of employment. The New York Central, for instance, laid off enough trains a week or so ago to bring about a saving of $250,000 in the course of a year. The Central had previously laid off a large number of employees, but the entire saving does not equal the $8,000,000 or $9,000,000 which the Central paid out last year in increases of wages. The case is the same with the Pennsylvania, which as a result of increases of wages paid out $12,000,000 extra in 1907.

With most of their employees the majority of the roads have contracts providing for 30 days' notice before a wage scale can be revised. Whether or not this notice will be given is the point under consideration, and it is certain that if given it will be given reluctantly. Indications of improvements in earnings might cause an abandonment of the subject altogether.

"None of the roads wants to make a general reduction in wages," said a prominent railroad official yesterday. "If it can possibly be avoided in justice to the property of the company. Current reports of earnings, however, seem to make some further retrenchment necessary in a great many cases."

RAILROAD NOTES

The largest Saturday and Sunday forces that have been worked at the shops since the company began reducing expenses, were worked yesterday and the day before, while this morning a full force in all departments was working. The demand for cars is said to be growing greater every day and it is confidently expected that the full six day working week will soon be in vogue again. At present the men are getting more than five days a week, as a system is used by which the Saturday and Sunday work is distributed among all the men as far as possible.

Foreman George Bennett, of the car shops, is at work today after being laid up with the grip. Frank Theobald, clerk in the master car builder's office, is also at work, but has not entirely recovered from an attack of grip.

The switchmen and other trainmen in the yards are being "mooched" quite often now by wise hounds who, by always keeping abreast of the times, know that a good many railroad men in the cities are out of work, and every "bo" that comes along is a railroad man that has been let out some place. The men are well on to the game, however, and the tramps are given the icy stare.

Fireman J. R. Wilkins, who was injured in the week in the yards three weeks ago, was able to return to work last night, making his regular run on the Cairo and Paducah passenger. Engineer Will Birch, who was injured in the same accident, will be able to go back to work in about ten days.

DEATH TOAST

OF A DESPONDENT FARMER
DRUNK IN CARBOLIC ACID.

Dramatic Entrance Into Eternity Prefaced By Burning All of His Money in Grate.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 27.--"Here's to my life," was the toast of death drunk in carbolic acid by Henry Knauss, a farmer, who lived nine miles west of Mason, Mich. Knauss prefaced this dramatic entrance into eternity by throwing $100 in bills into an open grate, where he watched it until it was destroyed. Whatever regrets he may have had over his life did not weigh very long on his mind, for in 10 minutes he was dead.

Knauss separated from his wife four years ago. Since then he had brooded over his troubles. It is believed that remorse for his alleged harshness toward her led him to take his life.

JOHN LEWIS PROMOTED-- ROMP TO STEAM HEAT.

Having just arrived from Cincinnati after a chilly ride, John Lewis, colored, gathered some wood around the yards of the Illinois Central railroad, and soon had a big fire burning near the freight station. John had his feet to the fire, and was enjoying life, when Patrolman William Rogers happened along and took John to the station for disorderly conduct. The fire was in a dangerous place and might have caused damage. To the court John could not explain just why he happened to come here, and he was given a nice place in the city jail, where it is heated by steam, to sleep until he serves out a fine of $5 and costs.

Preaches in Morning to Large Congregation--Goes to Fulton.

The Right Reverend Charles E. Woodcock, of Louisville, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Kentucky, was at Grace Episcopal church yesterday, preaching in the morning and confirming a class of five at the close of the sermon.

Bishop Woodcock left at 4:15 p. m. for Fulton, where he held services last night. He will visit Mayfield, Wickliffe and other West Kentucky parishes before returning to Paducah on Wednesday.

turning to Paducah on Wednesday.

Bishop Woodcock is a favorite in Paducah, where he is always greeted by a congregation that includes many outside of his own people. As a preacher he has the great essentials of strength, condensation, earnestness and magnetism. His sermon yesterday was based on John xii, 26, "If any man serve Me, let him follow Me," and every sentence was a clear-cut knockout blow sent straight to the mark by a spiritual athlete.

Those who received the rites of confirmation were: Mr. Thomas Turner, Mrs. R. B. Pugh, Misses Nell Barry, Erlene Boone and Mamie Wilson.

Witness in Graft Case Missing.

San Francisco, Jan. 27.--Despite the efforts made by the sheriff's office and the forces of Special Agent W. J. Daily Thought.

The only people who count are
those who can be counted on.

Will the advocates of the theory of
evolution kindly explain to us why
the male members of the families of lower animals and birds wear the shaggy coats and brave feathers, and
their feminine consorts go about modestly garbed, while in the human family the same shaggy coats that adorn
the noble beasts of prey, and the tall
feathers of the proud cocks of the tropics, are found gracing the persons
of the women, whose male consorts
are proud only of the looks of their women.

A bill has been introduced in the legislature making it a penal offense
to carry concealed a deadly weapon.
Good! If they only will enforce the law, think how many lawyers and
judges and legislators we shall have
in the penitentiary.

Representative Thompson, who introduced the bill, compelling automobiles to send a herald on foot ahead
and proceed at a speed not to exceed three miles an hour, must have been narrowly missed by an automobile, and,
no doubt, automobilists are wondering
why he was missed.

It is a pleasure to record one European noble, who is not mercenary,
Count Laszlo Szechenyi, of Hungary,
who is to marry Gladys Vanderbilt,
will not demand a marriage settlement, in view of the fact that he and his wife have entered into a contract
to share the income of their respective estates jointly, the residue to go to
the survivor on the death of either.
Such an agreement shows a mutual trust, quite unique in the annals of international alliances. Miss Vanderbilt's estate consists of $12,000,000,
and the count has the copyright on
his name and the good will of the house.

The esteemed Mayfield Monitor
says "Mayfield's dream of a new school building is to become a reality soon." Paducah's nightmare of paying for a couple of dreams is not likely to become a reality for some time.

Prof. W. B. Elkins, of the University of Missouri, who predicts a
"Heaven on earth" in America, predicts his heaven on the funniest
foundation. Naturally he says transportation will be cheap, easy and safe,
which is to be expected if we are to
be angels and have wings; but a public physician and cooking clubs to solve the servant problem in heaven—
excuse us! He is a wise professor to provide public physicians, if we must have cooking clubs; but if we were going to build an inferno, we would
start with a cooking club.

Of course, Rockefeller and Tillman talked about Roosevelt when they met.

Former Lieut. Governor Harding,
of Ohio, an ardent Foraker man, sum-
up the situation in his home state accurately, in announcing his allegiance
to Taft, and in doing so, he declares
his continued loyalty to Foraker. His position briefly is, that Foraker is not seeking the presidency, and has not
the slightest chance to get it, if he wished it; but Foraker is simply fighting to defeat Taft in Taft's home

state. Taft is not interfering with the senatorial situation in Ohio. So Governor Harding cannot see wherein
he is disloyal to the interests of Foraker in supporting the favorite son in his own state.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
"What's in a name?" don't you ask?
Mark Twain can answer. He has copyrighted his own name for the benefit of his children. Mark went broke once, and he has worked hard and paid off his debts. He has also accumulated a competence, sufficient
to maintain him the balance of his days in comfort; but he knows that
when he is dead his name will live
after him—on bottles of "unbonded
whisky" and cigar boxes, soap boxes
and various other kinds of packages.
So, thrifty "Mark," copyrighted it,
and is manufacturing cigars and
whisky in a most modest way during
his life time, to perpetuate the right.
He has also taken the precaution to
write and publish his own biography.
Mark Twain does not intend that strangers shall make money off the name he made for himself. That's a quaintly modern way of looking at the literary business. It has a tinge
of humor about it. No doubt, Mark is enjoying the joke on the manufacturers and biographers now, and his children will be enjoying the joke
after his death. It may be unmanly
business to them, making Mark Twain
cigars and whisky, when their father
is dead; about as unmanly as it is for them to gaze at their birth date
carved in the public watering troughs
near their home, which were presented by their father when they were born. We trust the copyright will not become valuable for many years.

REPUBLICAN HOME RULE.

Home rule as Republican doctrine
receives a fitting tribute from Secretary Taft, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Realizing that the people of the state of New York prefer somebody else for the candidacy, and that
that person is one of the state's own
sons, he requests his supporters to stop working for him in that state
any longer. "I have," says the secretary, in a letter to Congressman Herbert Parsons, "uniformly urged
friends of mine not to attempt to divide, in my interest, the delegation
from any state which has a candidate
of its own. Since Governor Hughes
has indicated his willingness to accept
the Republican nomination, I now
make the same request of you and my other friends in your state. Moreover I would greatly deprecate a contest which might imperil Republican
victory in New York in November.
Anything that I can do to avoid this,
I am anxious to do." This is orthodox Republicanism, and also, and consequently, good sense. Local favorites should be allowed to have
a freefield in their own communities.
Each community should be permitted
to order its local affairs to suit itself,
without any interference from the outside, so long as it keeps within
the national laws, organic and statutory.

When George Hoadly, afterward
one of Ohio's Democratic governors,
told Salmon P. Chase, early in 1860,
that Thurlow Weed, Seward's campaign manager, was trying to capture
delegates for Seward in Ohio, Chase
said: "Weed knows that Ohio is committed to me. He will keep out of this state." Chase was correct on one point. Weed refused to invade Ohio, although active in all the states
which had no home aspirants.

REV. JOSIAH B. SEARS.

His Pulpit at Trimbale Street Methodist Church Sunday.

The Rev. Josiah B. Sears, missionary field secretary of the North Texas
conference, filled the pulpit of the Trimbale street Methodist church Sunday morning. He delivered a strong and vigorous sermon for foreign missions on the theme "The Great Communion." Dr. Sears is one of the foremost men of Texas Methodism,
and for a number of years has held
this position, with a special salary,
traveling for this special cause. His sermon yesterday was pronounced an unusually fine missionary sermon. Dr.
Sears is here visiting his brother, the Rev. A. N. Sears, and B. F. Sears.

At the evening hour the literary
committee of the Senior Epworth League, Mrs. Benjamin Billings,
chairman, had charge of the service,
and presented an excellent musical
and literary program.

At Broadway.
The Rev. G. T. Sullivan, of the Broadway Methodist church, has begun a series of sermons on the Ten Commandments at the Sunday night
service. This is done at the request of the Epworth League of this church.
Dr. Sullivan's sermon last night on the First Commandment, was an eloquent and earnest presentation of the great truth that underlies all religion.
A large congregation with young men
predominating, heard him.
Miss Frances Coleman sang "Alone
With Thee" very impressively as the offertory Sunday morning at the Broadway Methodist church.

The Rev. J. W. Blackard, D. D.,
presiding elder of the Paducah district, will hold the first quarterly conference for the year at the Broadway
Methodist church on Friday evening
at 7:30 o'clock.

A fire in the roof of a building
in the rear of the Jackson foundry
Saturday evening caused a general
fire alarm to be turned in. All the departments answered, but the blaze
was extinguished, only one line of hose being run.

CHAPTER XI.

ARAW, gray day, with a driving drizzle from seaward and a
louden rack of clouds drifting
low, matched the sullen, dismal
mood of Glenister.

During the last month he had chafed
and fretted like an animal in leash
for word of Wheaton. This uncertainty,
this impotent waiting with folded
hands, was maddening to one of his spirit. He could apply himself to no
fixed duty, for the sense of his wrong
preyed on him fiercely, and he found himself haunting the vicinity of the Midas, gazing at it from afar, aspiring hungrily for such scraps of news
as chance to reach him. McNamara
allowed access to none but his min-
ions, so the partners knew but vaguely of what happened on their property, even though, under fiction of the law, it was being worked for their protection.

At steps regarding a speedy hearing
of the case were allowed, and the collusion between Judge Stillman and the receiver had become so generally recognized that there were uneasy mutter-
ings and threats in many quarters.
Yet, although the politician had by
now virtually absorbed all the richest properties in the district, and worked
them through his hirelings, the people
of Noma, as a whole, did not grasp the full turpitude of the scheme nor the system's perfect working.

Strange to say, Dextery, the fire eater,
had assumed an oriental patience quite
foreign to his fiery disposition and
spent much of his time in the hills
prospecting.

On this day, as the clouds broke
about noon, close down on the angry
horizon a drift of smoke appeared,
shortly resolving itself into a steamer.
She lay to in the offing, and through his glasses Glenister saw that it was the Idomenee. As the hours passed and
no boat put off, he tried to hire a crew,
but the longshoremen spat wisely and
shook their heads as they watched the steamer.

"There's the devil of an undertow
settlin' along this beach," they told
him, "and the water's too cold to drown in comfortably." So he laid firm hands upon his impatience.

Every day meant many dollars to the watcher, and yet it seemed that
nature was resolute in thwarting him.
For that night the wind freshened, and
daylight saw the ship huging the lee
of Sledge Island, miles to the westward, while the surf, white as falling
milk, boomed and thundered against
the shore.

Word had gone through the street
that Bill Wheaton was aboard with a writ or subpoena or an affidavit whatever was necessary to put the "Idomenee"
on McNamara, so public excitement grew. McNamara heeded his gold in the Alaska bank, and it was taken for granted that there would be the scene of the struggle. No one supposed for an instant that the usurper would part
with the treasure peacefully.

On the third morning the ship lay
abreast of the town again, and a life-
boat was seen to make off from her,
whereupon the idle population stream-
ed toward the beach.

"She'll make it to the surf all right,
but then watch out!"
"We'd better make ready to haul 'em
out," said another. "It's mighty dangerous." And, sure enough, as the skiff came rushing in through the breakers she was caught.

She had made it past the first line,
soaring over the bar on a foamy roller
crest like a storm driven gull winging
in toward the land. The very figure
of Bill Wheaton crouched in the stern,
while two sailors fought with their

ons. As they gathered for their rush
through the last zone of froth a great
counter rise out of the sea behind
them, rearing high above their heads.
The crowd on the surf's edge shouted.
The boat wavered, sucked back into the ocean's angry maw, and with a crash the deluge engulfed them. There remained nothing but a swirling flood
through which the lifeboat emerged
bottom up, amid a tangle of oars, grat-
ings and gear.

Men rushed into the water, and the next roller pounded them back upon the marble hard sand. There came the sound of splashing wood, and then a
group swarmed in waist deep and bore
out a dripping figure. It was a temporary huddled seaman, who shook the water from his name and grunted when
his breath had come.

A step farther down the beach the bystanders seized a limp form which the tide rolled to them. It was the second sailor, his scalp split from a blow of the gunwale. Nowhere was Wheaton.

Glenister had plunged to the rescue
first, a heavy line about his middle,
and, although buffeted about, he had reached the wreck, only to miss sight
of the lawyer utterly. He had time
for but a glance when he was drawn
outward by the undertow till the line
at his wrist grew taut, then the water
sucked over him and he was hurled
high up on the beach again. He staggered
dizzily back to the struggle,
when suddenly a wave lifted the cap-
sized cutter and righted it, and out
from beneath shot the form of Wheaton,
gritily clutching the life ropes.

They brought him in choking and breathless.
"I got it," he said, slapping his streaming breast. "It's all right, Glenister. I knew what delay meant, so I took a long chance with the surf." The terrible ordeal he had undergone had
blanched him to the lips, his legs wavered
uncertainly, and he would have fallen but for the young man, who thrust an arm about his waist and led
him up into the town.

"I went before the circuit court of appeals in 'Prisco," he explained later,
"and they issued orders allowing an appeal from this court and gave me a writ of superadeas directed against old Judge Stillman. That takes the litigation out of his hands altogether
and directs McNamara to turn over the Midas and all the gold he's got.
What do you think of that? I did better than I expected."

Glenister wrung his hand silently,
while a great satisfaction came upon
him. At last this waiting was over and his patient yielding to injustice
had borne fruit—had proved the better
course after all, as the girl had prophesied. He could go to her now with clean hands. The mine was his again.
He would lay it at her feet, telling her
once more of his love and the climest was working in him. He would make her see it—make her see that beneath the harshness his years in the wild had given him his love for her
was gentle and true and all absorbing.
He would bid her be patient till she saw he had mastered himself, till he
could come with his soul in harness.

"I am glad I didn't fight when they jumped us," he said. "Now we'll get
our property back, and all the money
they took out—that is, if McNamara
hasn't washed it."

"Yes, all that's necessary is to tie
the documents, then serve the judge
and McNamara. You'll be back on Anvil creek tomorrow."

Having placed their documents on record at the courthouse, the two men
continued to McNamara's office. He met them with courtesy.

"I heard you had a narrow escape
this morning, Mr. Wheaton. Too bad!
What can I do for you?"

The lawyer rapidly outlined his position and stated in conclusion:
"I filed certified copies of these orders with the clerk of the court two minutes ago, and now I make formal demand upon you to turn over the Midas to Messrs. Glenister and Dex-
tery and also to return all the gold dust
in your safe deposit boxes in accordance with this writ." He handed the documents to McNamara, who tossed

them on his desk, without examination.
"Well," said the politician quietly, "I won't do it."

"Had he been slapped in the face the
attorney would not have been more astonished."
"Why—you?"

"I won't do it, I said," McNamara
repeated sharply. "Don't think for a minute that I haven't gone into this fight armed for everything. Writs of superadeas! Bah!" He snapped his fingers.

"We'll see whether you'll obey or not," said Wheaton, and when he and Glenister were outside he continued:
"Let's get to the judge quick."

As they neared the Golden Gate hotel
they spied McNamara entering. It was evident that he had slipped from
the rear door of his office and beaten
them to the judicial bar.
"I don't like that," said Glenister.
"He's up to something."

So it appeared, for they were fifteen minutes in gaining access to the magistrate and then found McNamara
with him. Both men were astounded
at the change in Stillman's appearance.
During the last month his weak face
had shrunk and altered until recognition was betrayed in every line, and
he had acquired the habit of furtively
watching McNamara's slightest movement. It seemed that the part he played sat heavily upon him.

The judge examined the papers perfunctorily, and, although his air was deliberate, his fingers made clumsy
work of it. At last he said:
"I regret that I am forced to doubt
the authenticity of these documents."
"My heavens, man!" Wheaton cried.
"They're certified copies of orders
from your superior court. They grant
the appeal that you have denied us
and take the case out of your hands
altogether. Yes, and they order this man to surrender the mine and everything connected with it. Now, sir, we want you to enforce these orders."

Stillman glanced at the silent man
in the window and replied:

Five streams of water were on the

and a large pane of glass broken, but no serious damage was done. Her household goods were removed, but
the firemen prevented the spread of the flames.

The stable of Mr. Henry Katterjohn
caught fire several times, but was extinguished every time. He took his horse and buggy out of the stable.
Some hay was damaged and Mr. Katterjohn estimates his loss at $100.

A stable of Mrs. Belle Porter
caught fire and was damaged about $100.

Some Cans Removed.
Owing to the cold weather about $8,000 worth of canned goods had been removed from the factory and
stored in a warehouse two weeks ago.
This reduces the loss, although much
the machinery was destroyed. About 2,000 empty cans and many labels
were also ruined. All the electric wires in the building had become cut
on several weeks and there had been
no fire in the building since removing the goods.

The factory was built eight years
ago by a stock company, but the next year was sold to Adolph, Leo and Jesse Webb, the present owners, who
had run every season with success.
When the canning season was on the
factory employed about 200 people,
mostly negro women. Last fall an unusually successful season was enjoyed. The factory manufactured the "Fidelity" brand of corn, tomatoes
and pumpkins. Last summer it was talked of removing the factory to Tennessee owing to the difficulty in securing employees and of a scarcity of securing products.

The Loss.
As estimated today the loss of the factory including the machinery, will
amount to between $15,000 and $16,
000. Insurance, amounting to about $12,000 was carried on the factory.
About 2,500 empty bottles, belonging to Adolph Webb were destroyed, and they were insured for about half their value. Mr. Yoder, the superintendent had all his household goods stored in the building and they were destroyed.
They were valued at $1,000 and insured for $500.

The books of the factory were stored in the safe, and it was opened yesterday, and everything found in good order. However, the files of the factory were destroyed.

Plans for rebuilding have not been discussed fully. A deal is on whereby other capital will be interested in the factory, and the capital stock increased. It is assumed if the factory
is rebuilt, Paducah will be the location.

RUBBER GOODS.

WE have at last found what we have been looking years to find; a complete line of Rubber Goods that the manufacturers have confidence enough in to absolutely guarantee for 2 years to the consumer. We honestly believe every one of them will last 5 years. The line is so much better than the ordinary rubber goods that we can not begin to describe the difference between "THE EVERETT LINE" and the other kinds, but wish you might drop in at our store and see for yourself. The prices are right, too, in fact cheaper than the other kind, considering the quality.

MANUAL TRAINING COURSE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF CITY

Superintendent Carnegie has received the annual report of the public schools of Lexington, Ky., and embodied in the report, is some valuable information to those who are interested in adding a manual training department to the city schools of Paducah.

The Lexington board of education first sent a committee to Chicago and Cleveland to investigate manual training systems in practice in those cities, and from the ideas thus gained manual training was started in the schools of Lexington, two instructors at a salary of $850 a year being employed for the manual training and domestic science departments of the white schools, and one instructor in the domestic science department of the colored schools.

A center of cooking was established in the high school building for the girls, and a work shop for the boys. A center of cooking was provided in the principal colored school to accommodate the girls. The board of education spent about $750 in equipping each room, while for the present year the board has asked the city authorities for $3,245 as an appropriation with which supplies can be bought for those departments.

Another interesting thing in connection with the Lexington schools is that the city last year appropriated $118,181.38 for school purposes, to which is added $31,000 that comes from the state school fund. Paducah appropriates $33,000 and gets about $21,000 from the state fund.

The patrons of the Paducah schools are greatly interested in the move inaugurated to have manual training added to the schools, and it is believed that a campaign of education along the line properly planned and carried out will result in its addition to the city schools.

Teachers of the high school believe that a committee should be sent to cities where manual training is taught to get the best of the latest methods.

The plans that have been developed are to equip a workshop in the basement of the high school for the boys, the instruction to be given by the superintendent of buildings, who is a fine mechanic.

FIRST SALE OF TOBACCO IS HELD BY ASSOCIATION

The first sales of association tobacco conducted at the association salesrooms this morning by A. N. Voule, the salesman for this market, was highly pleasing to the association managers, 50 hogheads of leaf and lugs, going at prices ranging from 7 to 9 cents for lugs and 11 to 14c for leaf.

The sale was attended by a majority of the brokers representing the various tobacco interests and the association officials say there is no disposition evident on the part of any of the buyers to boycott the association tobacco.

The tobacco sold today was of the types that were graded at Guthrie last week and was the first day that the tobacco could be placed on sale.

"The indications are that the tobacco will continue to sell freely as buyers seem anxious for the tobacco at grade prices," said the salesman this afternoon after the sales had been made and arrangements were being made for the delivery. "At present we have 600 hogheads on the Paducah market, while it is coming in to the pricing houses every day and the number will be greatly increased within a few weeks."

The sales are starting off much earlier this year than last, while the prices asked average about 42c on the hundred higher than last year's crop brought.

It is expected that the sales to be conducted tomorrow will also be productive of good results as several brokers, who were out of the city today, are expected back.

Chicken High on Market.

One chicken was high on market this morning, although other chickens were selling for the usual price. The chicken belonged to Fred Prince, of Graves county, and escaped from the coop. The chicken was hemmed in, but the fowl flew upon the market house and when attempts were made to scare it off the roof it went still higher and landed on top of Louis Clark's grocery, which is three stories high. Here the chicken calmly viewed the situation, and shinned corn that was thrown on the ground.

WITH A PREACHER

The Boy Left Home and for Months Has Not Been Heard From.

Glasgow, Ky., Jan. 27.—The officers of Taylor county have been asked to help locate Carl Rexroat, 14 years of age, who resided in the Robinson Creek country, six miles from Campbellsville. The father, J. W. Rexroat, says Carl left home last June with Rev. J. H. Johnson, a Dutch Reform preacher, claiming Stockholm, Sweden, as his home. He claims that Johnson conducted a meeting at Elkhorn, Ky., and later spent some time at the home of Mr. Rexroat. They had a letter every two or three days from their son until the first of September, since when they have heard nothing and their efforts to locate the pair have been in vain. The mother is now dangerously ill with pneumonia and is anxious to see her son. When last heard from they were at Crab Orchard, Ky.

FATHER THINKS COFFIN WAS PLACED ON HIS CHILD.

Complaint has been filed by Leroy Heatty that some one had buried a body immediately over the grave of his child, which was buried two years ago. The complaint was taken up, and it is thought it was only a mistake in the placing of head stones. The child was buried on public ground, and in the placing of the slab an error may have been made. Heatty was not convinced by the officials of the mistake and it is uncertain what he will do. On account of the shallowness of the graves it would be impossible to conceal two coffins in the same grave.

Mrs. Joynes paid for two lower sleeping car berths from Cincinnati to New York, but when she reached Cincinnati the conductor refused to allow her to have two lower berths, but forced her to accept a lower and an upper berth. It is also claimed that the conductor of the sleeping car was abusive to her when she protested against taking the berths. The jury was given the case Saturday morning, but did not reach a verdict until today.

After the jury had reported the jurors were allowed to go until tomorrow morning.

AN AGED PHYSICIAN

After Years of Experience Gives the Following Advice.

"If you have anything to do with medicines at all be pretty sure you know what you are taking."

Our local druggist, W. B. McPherson, says this is a strong point in favor of the valuable cod liver preparation, Vinol. Everything it contains is plainly printed on the label, therefore it is not a patent medicine.

Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal, body building elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cod livers, but with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron, which is a needful constituent for the blood added.

This is the reason that Vinol accomplishes such wonderful results in curing chronic coughs, colds, bronchial and lung troubles, and there is nothing known to medicine that will so quickly build up the run down, overworked, tired and debilitated, or give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, as Vinol.

We can only ask every person in Paducah who needs such a medicine to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails. W. B. McPherson, Druggist, Paducah, Ky.

All business men and Democrats join us in urging you to disregard Republican promises and sore-headed Democrats. ## FRENCH SCHEME IS INTRODUCED

Among New York Landlords —A Lottery.

Gotham to Have Largest Clock in the World—New Water System Nearly Completed.

GOSSIP OF THE METROPOLIS.

New York, Jan. 27.—Fresh from Paris has come a new scheme that may be received rather generally by owners of New York's large apartment houses. It is nothing more or less than a lottery, but it is so unique that there is very little chance for anyone to be swindled, and still retains all the excitement of a full fledged gambling proposition. The plan makes it necessary for all the tenants of the apartment house to meet on the first of the month and draw a slip of paper from a hat. The one who draws the lucky slip will have his rent free for that month. Every month this proceeding will go on, and it has worked so well in Paris that some of the apartment houses have not lost a tenant in years. Everyone stays on in the hope of getting a month's rent free. Saving the rent and tear on the house that is caused by tenants constantly moving more than offsets the landlord's loss of a year's rent for one apartment.

Largest Clock in the World.

New York is to have the largest clock in the world, which distinction London has held for a long time with "Big Ben" in Westminster Abbey. The new clock is to be placed in the tower of the Metropolitan Life building in Madison Square, and will be in keeping with the structure itself, which is the tallest permanent structure in the world, with the exception of Eiffel Tower in Paris. The new tower will be forty-eight stories high, and the clock is to occupy part of the twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh floors.

The dial of the clock will be twenty-five feet high, with letters four feet high, and the hands twelve feet long. As the clock has not yet been ordered it is not known just how it will run, but in all probability, by electricity, although some of the newer ones have used compressed air. Owing to the immense size of the clock it will be possible to tell the time from a great distance. The tower, too, will be a landmark, overtopping everything in the vicinity. It will be 658 feet above the street.

New High Pressure System.

The recent five million dollar fire which revealed the inadequate equipment of the fire department in dealing with burning skyscrapers, has aroused a new interest in the high pressure system, that, after four years of work will be ready for service by April. The new system provides for ten powerful pumps that will throw sixty streams 220 feet high, which will eliminate the necessity of having steam fire engines for power. Each hose will throw an inch and a quarter stream as high as the twentieth floor of an office building, and discharge at a rate that would flood an ordinary city block six feet deep in half an hour.

Seven Years of Proof.

"I have had seven years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best medicine to take for coughs and colds and for every diseased condition of throat, chest or lungs," says W. V. Heary, of Panama, Mo. The world has had thirty-eight years of proof that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds, la grippe, asthma, hay fever, bronchitis, hemorrhage of the lungs, and the early stages of consumption. Its timely use always prevents the development of pneumonia. Sold under guarantee by all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

CAPT. PIERCE DEAD.

Was One of the Most Widely Known Men on the River.

Maysville, Ky., Jan. 26.—Capt. A. R. Pierce, aged eighty-three years, died at his home here. A king of general debility. In years gone by he was one of the most widely known men on the river, having operated the har on the steamer Telegraph on the upper Ohio for years, and was the barkeeper on several southern steamboats from Cincinnati to New Orleans. He was an Odd Fellow and leaves a wife.

Mind Your Business!

If you don't nobody will. It is your business to keep out of all the trouble you can and you can and will keep out of liver and bowel trouble if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They keep biliousness, malaria and jaundice out of your system. 25c at all druggists.

"But, really," persisted the reporter, "I'm sure the public would like to know how you managed to live to such a great age."

"By perseverance," replied the nonagenarian. "I just kept on living."—Philadelphia Press.

Lamps cause 500 fires in a year in London; gas, 219; chimneys, 179.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good," and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle wrapper—no secret, no bogus-poison humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for women's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for the purpose, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening remedy it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "bore," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

REVOLUTION OFF

JEAN JUMEAU, ITS LEADER, IS SHOT TO DEATH.

Gonaves Occupied by a Government Force—Short Horse Soon Curried.

Port au Prince, Jan. 27.—The revolution has been suppressed. Jean Jumeau, the leader of the movement, was captured at Dessalines, a little hamlet close to Gonaves and was at once shot to death by the government troops that made him prisoner. Gonaves has been occupied by a government force.

The revolutionary movement in Hayti, which has come to end with the execution of its leading spirit, Jean Jumeau, was of short duration. It began with the landing on January 5, of an expedition of adventurers on the Haytian coast, not far from Gonaves, which was speedily occupied.

The Haytian government at once undertook measures to suppress the movement, and troops were dispatched against the invaders. The American gunboat Eagle was sent to Hayti, and the navy department stood ready to repel two other battleships should occasion require. President Nord was on the point of bombarding St. Marc, where the revolutionists had congregated, but was dissuaded by the protests of the American minister, Dr. Furniss. The revolutionists sustained another setback by the arrest in New York city five days ago of Jose St. Pierre Gordan, the agent of the insurgents, on the charge of counterfeiting the paper money of the Haytian government.

General Fernin, who was the leader of the Haytian revolution of 1902, was concerned also in this movement. At the head of a score or more of exiled Haytiens he made an unsuccessful attempt last week to land on the Haytian coast. The government declared the vessel which carried him to be a pirate and drove him off.

Should your baby suffer? When he is fretful and restless, don't experiment on him and use any old thing your neighbor recommends. ## SUCIDE

Does Not Affect Policy When Holder Is Insane.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 2.—The court of appeals affirmed the Bourbon circuit court in the case of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company vs. Duryen B. Thomas. The action involved a policy of $1,000 which had a provision cutting down the amount of insurance in the event the insured died by his own hand within two years.

The court holds that it was proven that insured was insane when he committed suicide, and the provision does not invalidate or affect the face value of the policy.

The court affirmed the Franklin circuit court in Frankfort and Versailles Traction company vs. J. B. Hulet. Appellee was run into at a road crossing, his horse killed, buggy demolished and he was injured. The lower court awarded $750.

Mrs. Knieker—Henry, why did you leave your shoes on the stairs last night? Knieker (dazed, but inspired)—English custom, 'dear; left 'em to be blacked.—Puck.

COLOR REPUBLICANS DESIRE TO BE DELEGATES

It has always been customary to give to colored Republicans of Kentucky one of the four delegates-at-large to the presidential conventions, and the Taft and Fairbanks organizations are understood to favor an observance of this precedent in making up the 1908 delegation to the Chicago convention to nominate a successor to President Roosevelt.

Announcements of colored candidates are making their appearance. W. D. Johnson, of Georgetown, former publisher of the Lexington Standard and for many years editor of the Kentucky Standard, published at Louisville, has issued an address, announcing his candidacy and declaring very strongly for Judge Taft for president. Elder W. H. McElroy, president of the Cadiz Normal and Theological college and editor of the Cadiz Informer, a successful colored newspaper of large circulation, will also be a candidate for delegate-at-large.

Horses Run Away.

Mayfield, Ky., Jan. 27.—The team of Mr. Dene Reiden, which was standing unhitched in front of B. F. Briggs' job printing office, became frightened and started to run, but on account of one of the horses being the best runner the other one fell and was dragged against the buggy of Mr. J. C. Helotte, which was standing in front of the old Stark cafe, and broke both rear wheels. No one was in either of the vehicles.

WOMEN TERRORIZED

CRIME WAVE SWEEPING OVER NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Negro Footpads Invade the Residence Section and the Police Are Powerless.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 27.—A Washington special to the Record-Herald says: A crime wave is sweeping over and terrorizing Washington. Murder has been added to a long list of assaults. The police seem absolutely helpless. Culprits are not apprehended. Footpads have invaded the center of the residential section. In the immediate vicinity of Speaker Cannon's residence three women have been assaulted within a few weeks. Descriptions given of the thugs in all instances indicate that they were negroes. A reign of terror is upon the women of the city, who are now afraid to go upon the streets unattended after nightfall. Heretofore upon the streets of the city in the early hours of the evening they had no occasion to fear insult, much less violence.

Until within the last few months the criminally inclined among the negro population have confined their law breaking to petty thefts and alley assaults in which members of their race were involved. Feeling encouraged over the success of the thugs in escaping arrest, they have come out of the alleys upon the streets, seeking victims among women and men whose appearance indicates that they might have money in their pockets.

Mayor Smith's Clenched Fist Again Seen in Suggestion of Republic.

Illustrative of the policy of Mayor James P. Smith is the following incident that took place in the mayor's office late Saturday afternoon. The mayor was busy at work when a man walked in.

"Good afternoon, Mayor Smith," he approached the mayor. "Have you named the members of the board of public works?"

"No, not yet," responded the executive.

"Well, when you do," answered the visitor, "I want to have a talk with them. The city has been buying good Democratic gravel so long that now I want to sell it some good Republican gravel."

"Sir," said Mayor Smith, rising to his feet and clenching his fists, "Cut out the politics; I only want good gravel, and I will have it, too."

JACK LONDON

NOTED AUTHOR ARRIVES AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Left His Boat at Tahiti and Will Complete Trip, Which Has Been Without Accident.

San Francisco, Jan. 27.—Jack London, the author, who left here last May on a seven-year trip around the world to procure material for literary work and for whose safety fears have been entertained, returned to this city today on the steamship Mariposa from Tahiti.

London is accompanied by his wife and says that he has come back to attend to some business matters. He will leave again on the Mariposa on February 1. The Saark, the fifty-foot boat, in which London is making his trip, was left at Tahiti for repairs.

"We have had absolutely no adventures," said London, "and the reasons for our delayed arrival at the Marquesas Islands, which gave rise to the reports that we had been lost, were simply trouble with our gas engine and because we spent some time cruising among various islands. When we resume our voyage in the Saark we shall have an entirely new crew. Those who came with us when we left San Francisco last spring idealized adventure and when they found that actual adventure had a lot of hard work in between times, they lost interest."

Mrs. Eddy's Purpose.

Boston, Jan. 27.—Alfred Farrow, head of the Christian Science publicity bureau, in a statement last night said:

"Mrs. Eddy's purpose is to be more convenient to the mother church of the denomination and nearer to headquarters."
